The MindSnack Corner

"Life Is Your Canvas. Live In A Masterpiece!"

Each day, your canvas is blank, and it's up to you to decide what colors to paint it. In this week's MindSnack, we are going to provide all of the colors you need, so you can paint yourself a masterpiece. When painting your canvas, the first thing to realize, and remember, is this: the only meaning anything has is the meaning we give it. You may be asking, "What is meaning?" That is a great question, and this is the first question you need to answer. Meaning is literally the emotional value that we assign to something. For example, when someone asks how our day was, the only way we can answer that question is to first assign an emotional meaning to the day. After we've assigned the meaning, then we respond with a categorical answer that the day falls under (good, bad, ok, etc.). There is absolutely nothing that is assigned an emotional value, until we have given it its assignment. Paul said in Rom 14:14 "I know, and am convinced in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean in itself; but to him who thinks anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean." Now let's go a little deeper by answering the next question, "What is emotion?" Emotion is energy in motion, so when we assign a meaning to something, we are simply assigning energy to it. But not energy alone. We are assigning ENERGY IN MOTION! This means that we are the ones responsible for putting the direction on circumstances, events and situations. And every time we see, talk or even think about the thing, we are literally focusing on the direction we've assigned it. Write this down: WHEREVER FOCUS GOES, ENERGY FLOWS! There are only two directions we ever assign anything. Those two directions are up (resourceful emotional state) and down (non-resourceful emotional state) also known as positive and negative energy. Anything resourceful is something we can use, and all benefit from. Non-resourceful is the exact opposite. Now that you have all the colors you need, go paint yourself an AMAZING masterpiece.
