Sympathy

The Trinity Gardens Family would like to extend our deepest sympathy to the family of Leroy Foreman and the Woodard family. We pray that our God of Comfort touches you in this difficult time.

Healthy Living

Gratitude is a natural way to experience the best quality of life. Take the time out to write down the things you are thankful for every day. Once you do this, whenever you have a difficult day, just go over your list, and realize how much you have to be thankful for. This will dramatically decrease stress because it is impossible to be stressed and grateful at the same time..

Quick & Easy Financial Tip

Simple Money Saving Tip: Compartmentalize your money, so that it is clear what each dollar is designed to do. You can use jars, envelopes, or even separate savings accounts to separate your money. Assigning a specific task for your money will eliminate poor spending habits, and will also transform you into an excellent money manager.

Daily Bible Reading

For the next five days, meditate on these daily bible readings.

Monday: Genesis, chapter 32
Tuesday: Genesis, chapter 33
Wednesday: Genesis, chapter 34
Thursday: Genesis, chapter 35
Friday: Genesis, chapter 36

The MindSnack Corner

We have learned a lot of great information over the last few weeks. Learning is the easy part. The part that is the most difficult is actually doing something about what we've learned. The main reason...failure. What if I fail? That is the most common question. Here is the reality: unless you are willing to risk failure again and again, you will never experience success. I pulled an excerpt from a book called "Resilience" by Eric Greitens. This is a must read, but here is his take on failure.

"You will fail. Especially in the beginning. You will fail. And that's not just OK, it's essential. Without resilience, the first failure is also the last—because it's final.

Those who are excellent at their work have learned to comfortably coexist with failure. The excellent fail more often than the mediocre.

They begin more. They attempt more. They attack more. Mastery lives quietly atop a mountain of mistakes.

The exceptional artist throws away hundreds of photographs. The exceptional writer wears out the eraser. The exceptional investor puts money into losing ventures. If every risk you take pays off, then you probably aren't actually taking risks. We don't want to excuse recklessness and foolishness as "just taking risks," but we should understand that those who have built true excellence in their lives are always fighting at the edges of their ability.

What distinguishes the exceptional from the unexceptional? A willingness to fail, and an exceptional ability to learn from every failure."

—Eric Greitens from Resilience
